

Claus Kaare Pedersen

Claus Kaare Pedersen is an independent Mediator and Arbitrator in commercial, business and regulatory matters.

After several years of experience as a partner in leading Danish law firms Claus is now engaged full time as a Mediator and an Arbitrator and in designing dispute resolution processes. Through the years he has specialized in resolution of all kind of disputes in the Commercial Industry – through mediation and arbitration – domestically as well as internationally.

He has been working with ADR since the early eighties and in addition to his work as a neutral in disputes he is a regular writer, speaker and presenter on ADR topics.

Claus has been a member of the Board of the Danish Law Society and a number of other professional associations. In conjunction with the law Society he was also a co-founder of the Danish Mediation Institute and its first chairman.

Furthermore he is heavily engaged in the development of ADR-techniques and the spreading of the use of ADR.

Claus Kaare Pedersen regularly mediates and arbitrates a wide variety of disputes relating to mergers and acquisitions, service agreements, supply agreements, professional negligence, product liability, IT, financial services, insurance, construction and other commercial and business contracts.
